

Biography

Elma Postma has become well-known throughout South Africa as Dezi Terreblanche.

But after 7 years on the soap, Elma decided to leave 7de Laan and starred as co-presenter on Kyknet's ONTBYTSAKE from October 2007 till February 2009.

In 2008 she played a supporting role on KRUIPAD, and also presented the very popular show, BOER SOEK 'N VROU I, II and III, on Kyknet, from 2008 – 2010.

Elma starred in THE MATING GAME on SABC 2 in March 2010 as one of the lead characters, Sara van Graan. The cast won the SAFTA award for 'Best Ensemble' (2011)

She is currently playing the role of Bea Delport in BINNELAND on Kyknet (since March 2011)

Her theatre productions since 2004 include leading roles in HARTSONDES in 2004, directed by award-winning director Henry Mylne, a translation of the drama 'Crimes of the Heart' by Beth Henley, which was nominated for the 'Harry'-prize, most popular show on the KKNK festival; HAAKS in 2005, a two-hander, with veteran Chris Vorster, directed by Pierre van Pletzen, which won 2nd prize in the category for new plays, getting outstanding reviews for their strong performances; MONSTERS in 2006, also directed by Pierre van Pletzen where she played a dark, sexy character in this black comedy. She also starred in HEL-OP-HEMEL-EN-AARDE at KKNK 2011 (Show nominated for best newly created show on festival – Fiestas 2012), and joined the cast of VASELINETJIE, directed by Henry Mylne, at Aardklop 2011)

Elma is a regular MC and guest speaker at public functions.